

Los Angeles Times | SPORTS

Get great local deals for less.

powered by TRAVELZOO

LOCAL U.S. WORLD BUSINESS SPORTS ENTERTAINMENT HEALTH STYLE TRAVEL OPINION SHOP

SPORTS NOW OLYMPICS LAKERS CLIPPERS DODGERS ANGELS NFL KINGS NHL/DUCKS USC UCLA PREPS

IN THE NEWS: UKRAINE | HIGH-PROTEIN DIETS | OBAMA BUDGET | E-CIGARETTES | GM RECALL | OSCARS | MARDI GRAS

Search

Varsity Times Insider

TIMES REPORTERS BLOG ABOUT HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS ACROSS THE SOUTHLAND

Boys' basketball: Spencer Freedman is weighing options

Comments 0 Email Share 9 Tweet 9 Like 0 G+1 0

By Eric Sondheimer

August 22, 2013 | 5:22 a.m.

Highly regarded incoming freshman point guard Spencer Freedman still hasn't decided where he'll be attending school this fall.

He is considering Santa Monica, St. Monica and Mater Dei. But he also could end up studying in Europe and delay his first year of high school.

He was a standout on the Maccabiah youth team this summer in Israel.

Eric.sondheimer@latimes.com

Copyright © 2014, Los Angeles Times

Comments 0 Email Share 9 Tweet 9 Like 0 G+1 0

MORE FROM THE TIMES

Two former Navy SEALs found dead aboard 'Captain Phillips' ship

Drama teacher charged with 26 felony sex acts with two students

Oscars 2014: Pitt and Jolie light up the Academy Awards after-party

Oscars 2014: Pizza guy Ellen DeGeneres welcomed: 'I was shocked'

Woman sues Sprint over posting of intimate photos from traded-in phone

FROM AROUND THE WEB

Sponsored Content by Taboola

More Sports

--Topics--

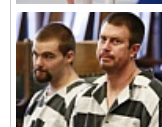

GO

advertisement

Surprisingly simple solution to help your joints. See why these ingredients are flying off shelves

Top 50 NFL Draft Busts Ever: Where Are They Now?

'Warren Buffett Indicator' Signals Collapse in Stock Market

Ads By Adblade™

Connect